CALL FOR PUBLIC REPRESENTATIVE

The Law Society of Nunavut is seeking a public representative to join its Executive Committee to bring a voice from the perspective of the community to issues affecting the justice system and the delivery of legal services in Nunavut. The LSN is the regulatory body which governs practicing lawyers in Nunavut and is primarily responsible for the protection of the public interest in the administration of justice by ensuring that the public is served by a legal profession that is honourable, competent and independent.

The successful candidate will have the exciting opportunity to play a key role in the LSN's development, policies and on projects and initiatives around the issues of access to justice, conflicts of interest, collaborative processes, equity and diversity. As a public representative, you will attend monthly meetings and occasional special meetings.

Preference will be given to those with a variety of life and work experiences relevant to the position. We are looking for someone who wants to contribute to the protection of the public interest and the promotion of access to justice in Nunavut:
