

There can be several factors which will help you to determine which membership type is best for you. For example, if you will only have one to three clients or matters and you believe your membership will only last a short amount of time, a Restricted Appearance Certificate would be best for you. Similarly, if you will have several clients and matters Regular Membership would be best. Lastly, if you hold a Civil Law Degree, you will be required to obtain a Canadian Legal Certificate. For more information regarding the three types of memberships with the Law Society you can visit our website following this link: <http://lawsociety.nu.ca/general-information/>