LA FONDATION DU DROIT DU NUNAVUT

February 2017 - The Law Foundation welcomes its new public representative, Lisa Tootoo.

In Feb 2017, Lisa Tootoo was appointed by the Minister of Justice to the Nunavut Law Foundation Board as its Public Representative.

The Public representative position is one of 5 Director position on the Foundation . Other positions are filled by lawyers who practice in Nunavut.

Lisa plays an important role on the Foundation by providing a community perspective on how to promote the Law Foundation , its mandate and how to provide Nunavummiut with information on the law and law related topics.

Lisa knows first-hand how difficult it can be to disseminate information throughout Nunavut’s vast territory. She brings her experience from the division of Community Justice; within the territorial government where part of her responsibilities is to ensure Nunavummiut have information and direct access to the government’s programs and services.

Lisa accepts this challenge and looks forward to working with her colleagues on the Board of Directors to find simple ways of increasing Nunavummiut’s access to justice. “The legal system can be complex and to some it can feel foreign and imposed. I hope to assist others by promoting the Foundation, its awards/grants and supporting people as they access info about the law and justice related topics.”
